Streams and Wells Here Dry Up as Drought Continues

DROUGHT AND ITS ATTENDANT ever present danger of leaf, grass and brush fires has kept Washington C. H. firemen on the go for the last couple of months to prevent spread of flames and serious damage. Thursday afternoon they put one out (above) at 704 Briar Avenue as it was crackling toward the Mark Construction Co. warehouse. Charles Crone is the fireman spraying water on the blaze. (Record-Herald Photo)

The drought of several months in this area is being keenly felt by many farmers whose wells have gone dry. Many are now forced to obtain water from other sources for home use and for their livestock.

Most of the streams of the county have ceased flowing but contain pools in the deeper places.

During the last four months the deficiency in rainfall here has been 3.67 inches. The last rain occurred Oct. 5 and 6, when .53 of an inch was recorded.

The last heaviest rainfall prior to that in October was on Sept. 1, when .90 of an inch was recorded. On Aug. 9, there was a rain .88 of an inch, and the heaviest in the four months was on July 28, with a total of 1.29 inches.

Normal rainfall for the four months of July, August, September and October is 12.40 inches. This year it was 8.73 inches, with the worst shortage in October, when only 1.08 inches was recorded, compared with a normal of 2.94.

July normal is 3.74 inches, compared with 2.80 inches this year. August normal is 3.29, this year it was 2.35; September average is 2.50 and this time it was 2.43.

As usual during droughts, heavy loss of fish has taken place in the streams, although there is still sufficient water in the deeper places in the streams to maintain fish for a while longer.

The long dry spell also has created a serious fire hazard. Wide areas of farm lands have been blackened by spreading fires in wheat stubble, dry grass, weeds. Farmers say this definitely is not good for the soil.

In the county's villages and Washington C. H., the fire menace is possibly even more serious because of the danger of leaf, grass and rubbish fires spreading to buildings in close proximity. About two weeks ago, the Washington C. H. fire fighting equipment made nine runs within one 24-hour period. Fire Chief George Hall warned against carelessness in burning leaves or rubbish during the dry weather.

Several wells within a few miles north of Washington C. H., some of which have weathered other droughts, have ceased to furnish water, many reports reveal.

However, in other parts of the county many wells also have either gone dry or are running extremely low.

In Washington C. H., where the pumpage is about 1,000,000 gallons daily, the entire supply is being obtained from deep wells at the main pumping plant and from the comparatively shallow wells at the auxiliary plant immediately east of the city.

The auxiliary plant has been in continuous operation for some time. The supply of water there comes from a heavy flow in a thick bed of sand and gravel 30 to 40 feet below the surface.

Paint Creek, long since completely dry above the dam at the pumping station, ceased to flow about the middle of July.

The huge gravel pits, including those owned by the Angler's Club, are either completely dry or will be within a short time as the wells near the pits are pumped—unless some heavy rains come.

It was stated by O. D. Farquhar, superintendent of the Ohio Water Service Co. here, that no pronounced change in the water situation has been noted during the past two weeks.

It was pointed out that several inches of rain will be necessary to bring the diminishing water table back up to something like normal.

UN Official Suicides While Senate Inquiry Is Increasing Pressure

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(P)—The death plunge of United Nations Counsel Abraham H. Feller has touched off controversy between UN Secretary General Trygve Lie and the McCarran subcommittee, probing the loyalty of American employees of the world organization.

The 47-year-old Feller tore himself from his wife's arms Thursday and leaped to death from their 12th floor apartment.

Lie, who announced his resignation from his UN post Monday, said Feller killed himself because of the strain of defending UN employees "against indiscriminate smears and exaggerated charges."

A federal grand jury as well as

Sen. Pat McCarran's (D-Nev.) internal security subcommittee has been looking into charges of subversive affiliations aimed at some American members of the Secretariat.

Robert Morris, counsel for the Senate subcommittee, said Feller himself was not a target of the investigation.

IN A STATEMENT in behalf of three members of the subcommittee, Senators James Eastland (D-Miss), Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) and Willis Smith (D-NC), Morris termed Lie's assertion "irresponsible."

Feller was an $18,000-a-year general counsel and principal director of the UN Legal Department since 1946. He was credited with writing some of the most important statements of Lie.

Associates said Feller had been a close friend of Alger Hiss, former State Department aide convicted of lying to a grand jury when he denied passing official secrets to Whittaker Chambers, self-admitted courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring.

Lodge Gets Data To Give to Him

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(P)—The Truman administration opened its top secret diplomatic and military files Friday for President-elect Eisenhower's advance emissary.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, designated by Eisenhower to represent him at the State, Defense and possibly other departments, arrived here Thursday night ready to confer with top officials in those agencies.

His mission was regarded as preparatory to Eisenhower's conference Tuesday with President Truman. The purpose is to pave the way for a smooth transfer of the government from Democratic to Republican hands Jan. 20.

Indications were that Truman directed his officials to cooperate fully in providing information to Lodge, just as facts on the next government budget already are being laid before Eisenhower's special representative to the Budget Bureau, Joseph M. Dodge, who arrived Wednesday.

Lausche Panel Uses $43,163 In Campaign

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14—(P)—Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche's committee Friday reported $43,550 in contributions and $43,163 in expenditures in his successful campaign for reelection.

The statement filed with the secretary of state contained eight pages of contributors' names. None of the contributions was for more than $500. Lausche reported personal expenses of $2,741 and contributions of $2,820.

Other statements included:

Roger W. Tracy for State Treasurer Committee listed $12,155 received and spent. The Cuyahoga County Tracy for Treasurer Committee reported $3,320 received and spent. Tracy, a Republican, won reelection.

The Committee for the Re-election of Rep. Cliff Cleveland of Bryan in the Fifth District listed receipts of $43,500 and expenses of $43,013. He is a Republican.

The Committee to Protect the Ohio Constitution reported expenditures of $26,810 in its successful campaign to defeat a proposal for a convention to consider changes in the state constitution.

Tenth District Congressman Thomas A. Jenkins, Ironton Republican, reported contributions and expenditures of $3,505 in his successful campaign for reelection. The Ohio Republican Finance Committee contributed $3,000 of that sum.

Rep. James G. Polk, Democrat of Highland, got and spent $281 in his successful campaign for reelection in the Sixth District.

3 Bandits Grab $5,000 In Cafe

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14—(P)—Three gunmen wearing stocking masks robbed an eastside cafe of about $5,000 Thursday night, forcing 15 patrons to lie on the floor.

The bandits ordered Mrs. Bertha Cernigoz, 53, owner of the cafe, into a rear room and made her hand over the money which she had on hand to cash Friday pay checks.

NEW DELHI, Nov. 14—(P)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's 63rd birthday was marked Friday by an observance of "Children's Day," including collection of child welfare funds.

Mother And Eight Kiddies Die In Fire

WESTPORT, Mass., Nov. 14—(P)—A mother and eight children perished early Friday in a fire at their home while the only two survivors of the family, the father and a son, were away at work.

Mrs. Mary T. Audette, 44, and her children were suffocated by smoke and intense heat carried to their upstairs bedrooms from a fire in the kitchen. The children ranged in age from 3 to 17.

Co-Op Machinery Firm Bankrupt

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 14—(P)—The Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperative says it is willing to assume the debts of the National Farm Machinery Cooperative, Inc., of Bellevue, O., now in receivership.

Under its plan filed Thursday in federal bankruptcy court, the Indiana farm co-op would pay at least 80 per cent of National's debts. If the court approves the plan, the Ohio firm probably then would be sold.

Plane Wreckage Yields 4 Bodies

SHELTON, Wash., Nov. 14—(P)—The charred and tangled wreckage of a Navy plane, which exploded against a hillside Wednesday night with 11 men aboard, so far has yielded four broken bodies.

The wreckage, scattered over a wide area of the forested Olympic Mountains foothill 15 miles northwest of here, was found by search parties Thursday night.

GOP Expects Lots Of Help From Dems In New Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(P)—Republicans say they expect a lot of help from Democrats in shoving President-elect Eisenhower's legislative program through the new Congress.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

I was deeply interested while talking with Carey McConaughy, head of the Coca Cola Bottling plant next door to the Record-Herald when he told me about helping drill for water near Hillsboro many years ago, when the drill struck a large log at around 100 feet in the ground.

I was somewhat amazed because I had temporarily forgotten that Hillsboro and surrounding area are in glaciated territory.

Striking that log, on a farm about a mile from the Highland County Children's Home, could mean only one thing—the log had been covered up by the glacier as it retreated from a large portion of Ohio, many thousands of years ago.

Mac was assisting Reuben Asher at the time (1905) and the drill just could not penetrate the large, hard timber it encountered, so it was necessary to move to a new location.

Fragments of the timber were brought up by the drill.

I have mentioned in this column before about logs or tree trunks, having been encountered by drillers in no less than three places in Fayette County. One was on Sycamore Street, one on the Duff farm on the Waterloo Road, and one on a farm a few miles northwest of Jeffersonville.

That means that there are thousands of logs from the pre-glacial forests, buried 60 to 100 feet below the surface in Fayette and surrounding counties.

Most of these logs are still well preserved after their long period of entombment.

I hope sometime to interest proper officials in making carbon tests of the timber found beneath the surface, and establish just how long it has been since the last glacier covered this part of Ohio.

Geologists have fixed the time at anywhere from 12,500 years to 50,000 years ago.

The carbon test made in connection with mastodon bones found in Madison County a few years ago, showed the animal had perished in a bog 7,500 years ago.

Ike, Dewey Slated To Hold Important Parley On Policy

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 14—(P)—President-elect Eisenhower was to confer here Friday with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in a policy conference dealing with Korea and other problems facing the new Republican administration.

The New York governor, mentioned as a possible choice for a cabinet post, also was scheduled to talk over the general's forthcoming trip to the Korean war zone and to explore matters likely to come up for discussion when Eisenhower confers with President Truman next week.

Dewey has contended he intends to stay on as governor for the two remaining years of his term, but reports persist that Eisenhower may ask him to be either secretary of state or secretary of defense.

Out of the Eisenhower-Dewey conference may come a decision on when the general will leave for Korea. He promised during the campaign that if elected he would go to the battle zone in the hope of finding a way to end the war.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said Thursday he knew of no plans for the general to visit Moscow as well.

2 Draft Board Members Quit In Protest

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14—(P)—Bernard Blattman, chairman of draft Board No. 54, resigned Friday because the U. S. Court of Appeals reversed a prison sentence against a conscientious objector.

"I'm going to do the same thing," said J. C. Shidler, another member of the board. "It is a thankless job in which to be slapped down."

George Dacey, third member of the board, could not be reached for comment.

The case involved is that of Samuel E. Davis Jr., 22, who failed to report for induction into the armed services because of religious reasons.

He subsequently was sentenced to prison but the Court of Appeals reversed the conviction on the grounds the draft board failed to give him due process of law provisions when he was classified. The court said the board did not allow Davis an opportunity to plead his case.

Blattman contended the board gave Davis 20 minutes in which to make an oral argument and then told him to make further arguments in writing.

Girls; Remove Irk From Work

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(P)—A college professor has served notice on the American housewife and the African Zulu that he is determined to help them save themselves work.

Dr. John Immer, professor of industrial management at American University here, unfolded this as part of his international plan to dispense with lost motion and thereby increase productivity and lower costs in factories, mines, stores and farms.

"Taking the irk out of work," is what they call it in England.

"If the housewives get interested in work saving, their husbands haven't got a chance," Dr. Immer said. "Give work-saving five more years and there won't be even a savage Zulu who will escape the thing."

The professor, who is married, said women waste too much time doing simple things like carrying out the breakfast dishes a few cups and plates at a time. He envisioned a home of the future with a sort of crockery railroad running from the dining table to the sink. He did not explain what appeal such a device would have to folks who just eat in the kitchen.

At the very least, he suggested that homemakers acquire a wheeled tray "so they can apply the accepted industrial principle of unit loading."

Immer expects a big boost for his program from "Work-Saving Week," scheduled to start Monday.

The professor won't be here for that celebration. He left Thursday on an expense-paid trip to England and the continent, to pep up work-savers there. The Mutual Security Agency picks up the check.

$5,279 in WHS Athletic Fund At End of This Football Season

After paying off the last of the notes on the stadium at Gardner Park and bills for an assortment of purchases, there was a balance of $5,279.24 in the Washington C. H. High School's athletic fund at the end of the 1952 football season.

Seven home games and an undefeated team were given the credit for one of the best, if not the best, seasons financially, as well as on the field of sports, in the school's history.

Prin. E. Wayne Titus, who made the skeletonized report to the Athletic Board at its regular monthly meeting Thursday evening, said a detailed financial statement would not be completed for a couple of weeks yet.

With the football season now fading out, except in memory, the Athletic Board began to turn its attention to basketball.

Members of the Lion cage squad are to have the season tickets for reserved seats for the 10 home basketball games for sale. The plan is similar to that followed for the boys of the football squad except that instead of getting their activity tickets free the basketball players will be given a credit of 25 cents cash for every ticket sold.

The board approved a plan for about 300 reserved seats on the west side of the gymnasium. Seats on the east side of the gym and those on the west side not reserved are open for students and visitors.

THE BOARD AUTHORIZED payment of bills amounting to about $2,500 for payment at its Thursday night meeting. Among the bigger ones were new sound projectors $300; a total of 39 rolls of film for taking motion pictures of the football games $289; football equipment (including 25 new helmets) $600; salaries for ticket takers at the games $276; special patrol provided by the American Legion $120; rental of public address system $90; lumber for track hurdles $181; bus transportation for football squad $123 and meat for football squad for out-of-town games $119.

It was brought out during the discussion of the bills that about 50 new hurdles will be needed for the track sport in the spring and that the lumber for them will cost about $500. A considerable saving will be effected, it was noted, by having them made in the school's industrial arts department.

The board approved the purchase of championship trophies for this year's track and football teams and also the suggestion that pictures of the teams be taken and placed in the trophy cases in the lobby of the gymnasium.

CONDITION OF the football playing field at Gardner Park came in for a lot of discussion at the meeting, too.

The prolonged drought and constant use for football and band practice left the sod worn almost to the bare ground. Now, the objective is to build it up again, but how to go about it presents several questions. Fred Rost, the school business manager, was asked to consult "competent authorities" and report to the board at its next meeting.

Head Coach Fred Jacoby told the board some difficulties were being experienced in filling the WHS football schedule for next fall. Up to now, seven games have been booked, three at home and four away from home. On the schedule to date are Xenia (here); Linden-McKinley (there); Bexley (there); and four SCO League games, Wilmington (here); Greenfield (there); Hillsboro (here) and Circleville (there).

Two more games are needed to fill the nine-game schedule. Dayton Kiser may come back for one of the open games, but there has been no indication of what teams are being considered for the other. Difficulties in filling the schedule, it was brought out, stem from the league affiliations of other schools which claim most of the games on their schedules on a home and home basis.

Earl E. McVey Dies Suddenly at Home

Earl E. McVey, 58, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home, 1033 Washington Avenue, at 9 A. M. Friday.

He had appeared in his customary good health and had been going about his usual daily routine with no warning of the ailment that claimed his life.

He was just getting ready to leave for the Midland Grocery Co. office when he was stricken.

He had many friends throughout this community, made during his 39 years with the company as a salesman in Washington C. H., Fayette, Madison and Clark counties.

A native of Sabina and a graduate of Sabina High School, he had come here and joined the force of the old Dahl-Campbell Wholesale Co. right out of school. He remained with the company after it became the Midland Grocery Co. and made Washington C. H. his home. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Pauline McVey, he is survived by a son, Richard McVey in Sacramento, Calif., and a granddaughter.

He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Maitha Rodgers of Springfield, Mrs. Emma Moore of Sarasota, Fla., and Mrs. Lena Snider of Sabina, and two brothers, C. C. McVey of Sabina and William E. McVey of Harvey, Ill.

Funeral services are to be held at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here at 2 P. M. Monday with Rev. Clinton Swengel officiating. Interment is to be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 6 P. M. Saturday.

7 Million Tons Coal A Year To Be Needed

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14.—(P)—Five companies are to supply more than seven million tons of coal a year to two big plants supplying power for the Pike County atomic energy plant project.

Ohio Valley Electric Corp., which will build the power plants near Cheshire and Madison, Ind., made the announcement through the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., one of the participants in the power project.

Ohio Valley said it has signed 15-year-coal supply contracts with the five companies.

The Ohio power plant to go up near Cheshire will be supplied by North American Coal Co. of Cleveland and Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co. of Pittsburgh. Each will furnish 1,550,000 tons per year.

Coal consumed by the two plants will cost about $25 million a year in addition to transportation charges of about $4 million.

Coal deliveries will start in October, 1954. Coal for the Madison plant will come from mines in Southern Indiana and Western Kentucky. Ohio mines and possibly some in West Virginia will supply the Ohio plant. Officials say the total coal supply will come about evenly from deep and strip mines.

New Chieftains Of Legislature To Be Chosen

Battles In Offing
As Both Parties Pick
Men For Top Posts

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14—(P)—State legislators who fought and won primary and general election battles now are involved in scraps to pick leaders of the next Ohio General Assembly.

Democrats and Republicans of both the Senate and House of Representatives will caucus before long to agree on the men for the top jobs. They are speaker of the House, majority and minority floor leaders and clerks of both houses.

The prevailing selections in the closed door meeting usually are, binding on the party members who will open the 100th General Assembly Jan. 5.

Because Republicans again outnumber Democrats they will select the ranking officers, except the president of the Senate. That officer is the lieutenant governor who is elected by the voters.

The new presiding officer of the Senate will be Mayor John W. Brown of Medina who won election over Lt. Gov. George D. Nye of Waverly, a Democrat.

THE SPEAKER, or presiding officer of the House, will be selected at a GOP caucus Dec. 8. Rep. George H. Kirkpatrick (R-Knox), elected to his ninth term, will serve as chairman.

Top contenders for the gavel-wielding job are the present speaker, Rep. Gordon Renner (R-Hamilton), and Rep. William Saxbe (R-Champaign), the present majority floor leader, or speaker pro tem. Others mentioned for consideration were Reps. Kenneth A. Robinson (R-Marion) and Roger Cloud (R-Logan). All except Renner are from predominantly agricultural counties. They look to the rural faction in the House for backing.

If Renner retains the speaker's job, the majority floor leader presumably would be from a rural county. Should a rural representative become speaker, the majority leader probably would be from a metropolitan county.

House Democrats have yet to set a date for selection of a minority floor leader to succeed Rep. James M. Carney (D-Cuyahoga) who made an unsuccessful bid for nomination for U. S. senator.

Contenders mentioned for that post include Reps. A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont), James J. McGettrick (D-Cuyahoga) and Jesse Yoder (D-Montgomery). Lancione has held both majority and minority House posts.

McGettrick reportedly has the backing of Carney and Cuyahoga County Democratic Chairman Ray Miller. Twelve of the county's 17 representatives are Democrats and are expected to aid McGettrick.

IN EVENT OF a split in the party delegation, Rep. Joseph H. Avelone hopes to get consideration. The Senate Democratic caucus date also is indefinite.

Reports indicate when Republicans get together, possibly this month, they will agree on Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) as majority floor leader, or president pro tem. He is chairman of the present Senate Finance Committee. Another possibility is Sen. William H. Daddens (R-Hamilton).

The current Senate Republican leader, Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt of Columbus, did not seek reelection in order to run for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Senate Democrats may run into a scrap over Sen. Joseph W. Bartunek's attempt to retain the minority leadership. The Clevelander has opposition from Sen. Anthony J. Celebrezze, also from Cuyahoga County.

When Senate Democrats caucus, they expect to meet in Cleveland at the call of Sen. Frank J. Svoboda (D-Cuyahoga), ranking party member.

Senate Clerk Thomas E. Bateman of Columbus and House Clerk Carl Guess of Carrollton expect to retain their jobs.

Truman Shuns Large Number Of Job Offers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(P)—If President Truman is unemployed after he leaves the White House it won't be for lack of job offers.

He has received a large number of invitations from firms who want him to work for them after Jan. 20, White House sources say, but has accepted none of them.

All those who have made offers, it was learned, have received letters telling them in effect that their bids for the President's services have been placed on file.

Beyond this, the White House made no information available on Truman's employment prospects once he returns to private life.

There wasn't even a specific "no comment" on a published report that the president has received an offer of a $1 million a year post. It appeared, however, that if he has had any such offer he is keeping it to himself.

Truman takes the attitude that his after-inauguration plans, unless they should involve a public service of some kind, are his own business. His staff shares that view.

It was learned unofficially, however, that among the concerns interested in getting the President's services is a publishing syndicate, the North American Newspaper Alliance.

There were some indications that Truman himself hasn't decided exactly what he will do upon his retirement from office.

The general expectation among Truman's associates is that he will go for a while, at least, to his home in Independence, Mo.

New Seed Store To Locate Here

New Building To Be Put Up West Of City

The Berry Seed Co., one of the oldest established seed houses in the midwest, will open a retail store in Washington C. H. about January 15, it was announced today by company officials.

The store will be located on the CCC Highway West of the city limits, in a new building erected to suit the special needs of the business. The F. S. Cupp Construction Co., is the builder.

"We will stock the most complete line of farm seeds ever carried in a retail store," said Charles Sinn, president of the company. "We will also have complete garden seed stocks and complementing lines in feed, fertilizers, lawn seed, chemicals, insecticides and garden tools. It is our intention to give Washington C. H. a one-stop farm and garden center."

THE STORE will be part of the company's expansion program that includes units at Marion, Findlay, Van Wert and Greenville. Stores are also operated in Illinois and Iowa.

The Berry Co. is known to farmers all over the country through its extensive mail order business which has made it the largest seed house in the world selling seeds direct to the farmer.

The American Field Seed Co. of Chicago, a mail order seed house, well known to Ohio farmers, has recently been consolidated with the Berry Co., adding even broader distribution and territory to the Berry structure.

Originators of the Gro-Coated brand of chemically treated seeds, the Berry Co. has been cited by several associations for research work in this field.

The term "nerve" originally meant tendon or sinew.

Phil Murray Buried Near Coal Fields

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14—(P)—Phil Murray, who won the title of labor's statesman while bringing the CIO to its greatest strength, went to his final resting place Thursday near the soft coal fields where he began his life's work.

The funeral of the CIO president brought labor leaders from every section of the country into this industrial stronghold to pay their final respects to the one-time immigrant boy who became the friend of U. S. Presidents.

Murray's death Sunday in a San Francisco hotel caused a delay in the CIO's plans to open its 14th constitutional convention in Los Angeles next Monday.

Funeral services for Murray were conducted by a boyhood friend, Msgr. Henry A. Carlin, vicar-general of the Pittsburgh Roman Catholic diocese. Hundreds attended the solemn requiem mass in St. Pauls Cathedral.

Long files of saddened friends, admirers and followers trailed slowly past Murray's bier Wednesday in a suburban funeral home.

CIO vice presidents who conferred with Allan S. Haywood, CIO executive vice president, here Wednesday decided to delay the start of the convention until Monday.

Tropical Park To Get Ice Rink

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14—(P)—Sun-drenched Pershing Square here is going to be transformed into a polar park Dec. 1.

An ice rink will be put into operation for exhibition skating right in the heart of downtown Los Angeles. The Business Men's Association is providing the 40 by 60-foot ice plot. Christmas trappings will transform the tropical park into a winter wonderland.

Why Our Air Power Seemed Stymied

Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr. of the Marines said recently that the Air Force has failed to stop Communist supplies from reaching the front lines in the bitter Korean fighting. His was undoubtedly a factual statement, but the Air Force resented its release because it is not allowed to use its full power to stop movement of enemy supplies.

Says Maj. Alexander P. de Seversky, aviation authority:

"Suppose your kitchen sink has overflowed and flooded the room. You try to mop up the water on the floor—but don't close the faucet. No matter how hard and well you mop, the water will continue to pour onto the floor. The whole procedure will be exhausting and futile.

"That, in effect, has been the heart-breaking procedure imposed upon our air forces. They are expected to 'mop up' the enemy supply and forces while the 'faucet'—the source of Communist reinforcement north of the Yalu—remains wide open. Closing off the flow has, unhappily, been precluded by political considerations."

The Seversky statement also is true. He is fighting against deemphasis of air power. It is argued quite plausibly that America, aided by such willing allies as it can attract, will not have enough infantry to meet the huge Communist hordes on land. The U. S. is forced to concentrate on air power and other powerful weapons to compensate for the manpower deficiency.

Any effort in Congress to deemphasize air power by allocation of funds likely will get nowhere.

The American Way

We have chosen the president who will head the nation during the four years beginning next January 20.

If the United States were one of the Red dictatorships, the losing candidate and his supporters would have been "liquidated" by this time, unless they had been lucky enough to get across the frontier ahead of the winner's hatchmen.

Fortunately, that is not the American way. Harsh words spoken in the heat of the campaign already are being forgotten. Real statesmen have never been "soreheads," and all of them are now working together to promote the interests of our country.

It's time for the rest of us—regardless of party—to pull together toward peace and prosperity as Americans all.

Diesels Take Over

An evolutionary change little short of revolutionary has taken place in railroad motive power since World War II, with the rapid substitution of diesel steam locomotives.

This was highlighted a short time ago when newspapers all over the country contained stories and pictures of a coal tippie which a railroad was trying to raze in Iowa. It was used to load coal on tenders, but Diesels put it out of business.

The steam locomotive occupies an important niche in the transportation history of the country. These behemoths of the rails opened the West to settlement. But fewer and fewer of them snort across the country, and in a few short years they will be seen only in museums.

Billionaire Is Like Bent Handyman

By Hal Boyle

LISBON—When kings lose their thrones but manage to keep their heads, they like to come to Portugal.

The political climate as well as the balmy air of this tiny country, which is the size of Indiana has a population slightly larger than that of New York City, agrees with them. They also like the feeling of stability and security built by Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, the most scholarly as well as one of the more durable of Europe's dictators.

As a result this refuge of royalty has more ex-kings, would-be kings, and heirs of kings than a pinhead deck, all dreaming of the good old days or hoping for a return to power.

Among the refugees who dwell quietly here are Umberto II of Italy; Carol of Rumania; Don Juan of Bourbon, pretender to the crown of Spain; Francisco Joseph of the vanished Austro-Hungarian empire, Admiral Horthy, ex-dictator of Hungary; the Count of Paris, still waiting to take over the throne of France, and Dom Duarte Nuno de Graganza who yearns for Portugal to become a monarchy again and give him a job again.

Aging ex-King Carol, perhaps the best-known, has dropped his playboy ways. He and his wife, the tempestuous former Madame Lupescu, live modestly. Their main interest now is their big business investments.

"The only thing that worries Carol now is that his son, former King Michael, will ask him for money," said an acquaintance.

The royal refugees lead undisturbed lives. They feel safe from revolution or revenge or animosity, as one resident put it:

"The average Portuguese is industrious and very poor himself, but he has little resentment against the wealthy. There is an old proverb here about the rich: 'May they eat twice at every meal.' The peasant knows that no matter how much money a man has he can only eat one meal at a time."

For this reason Portugal has become a haven of some men of great fortune.

The most fabulous is 83-year-old "Mr. Five Per Cent," Caluste Sarkis Gulbenkian, reputed to be the world's only living billionaire.

A figure of international mystery, this short dark octogenarian Armenian could buy and sell all the royal refugees here, singly or in a lump, with no more strain on his purse than the average man feels in purchasing a new suit.

With the help of two secretaries he operates a worldwide empire in oil from a five-room suite in the Aviz Hotel, which is near a police station and the city slaughterhouse.

Each member of the cabinet has to be confirmed by the Senate.

Guess-lists, issued by various prophets, of prospective cabinet officers have most of them coming from the eastern seaboard—principally New York. This is politically impossible. The basic strength of his party is still in the middle west, which cannot be ignored in cabinet appointments. If New York gets two seats, it may prove one too many. California has the vice president and therefore more than one cabinet member from California would be high. The Southern Democrats who deserted party regularity to vote for Eisenhower are entitled to cabinet recognition. The Taft Republicans, who constitute the largest element in the Republican Party, will have to be recognized.

Geographical appointments are normal to American political life. It is a recognition of the structure of our history. We are a federation of 48 sovereign states.

Furthermore, New York is disliked and distrusted in most parts of the United States, the assumption being that it is a city divided between Wall Street plutocrats and Stork Street wisecrackers, have labored in the desert for 20 years, will expect recognition.

The Republican Party consists of three basic elements: 1. The Taft Republicans; 2. The Young Republicans (since 1932); 3. The new Republicans, (those who came into the party with Eisenhower).

Amity was achieved through the efforts of Robert A. Taft and Herbert Hoover. It can almost be said that Taft campaigned as hard as Eisenhower did. That was essential, as otherwise a large number of Republicans would not have voted—enough possibly to change the outcome of the election. Herbert Hoover fought the tendency to sabotage Eisenhower from the day Eisenhower was nominated. It can be said that the Republican Party had not been as unified since 1928 as it was in 1952 and that Taft and Hoover achieved that unity for Eisenhower.

The Young Republicans have no history in the Republican Party except in this campaign. Few even know their names. Their loyalty is to Eisenhower the man, not to the party. Politically, they are expected to wait their turn. If too many are elevated to high position before they have won confidence, it may hurt Eisenhower's chances of having smooth sailing in Congress.

Were the Republican working majorities in the two Houses of Congress notable, these distinctions would not matter. However with the slim majority that the Republicans have (no actual working majority in either House), the greatest care must be taken to maintain the unity in the party achieved during the campaign. This will require political astuteness of the highest order. Roosevelt had a prolonged honeymoon period; Eisenhower will not have that because the Democrats will seek to rebuild their party as rapidly as possible, with a view to recapturing Congress in 1954.

That is why cabinet appointments are so important.

Diet and Health Treatment For Shock Differs With Cause

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

When we read in the paper that an accident victim died suddenly from shock, we must remember that there are two different types of shock. One type is known as primary shock, and the other as surgical shock.

Primary shock is a temporary condition from which a person usually recovers promptly after a short fainting spell. This condition is due, among other things, to a sudden, extreme emotional upset, as in profound fear, severe pain, intensely disagreeable sights, or tragic news. Rest and stimulants are helpful in the treatment.

More Severe Type

The second type, known as surgical shock, is usually much more severe, and if not treated promptly and vigorously, can result in death.

The person in surgical shock is prostrate, his face is white, and his body has a cold moist appearance. His eyes are sunken, his blood pressure is low, the pulse feels shallow, and the arms and legs are cold and clammy.

The person may stay in a state of shock for hours or days. The longer in shock, the harder it is to recover.

There are many causes for this type of shock. It may follow severe operations, injuries, bad fractures or burns, broken bones, crushing wounds of the abdomen or chest, or severe hemorrhage.

Kidney Failure

Usually the shock victim has a considerable loss of blood due to the injury or operation. Frequently shock brings about a kidney failure which may last for weeks, even after recovery from the shock.

Emergency methods may be used as rapidly as possible in many cases. Any bleeding should be stopped by means of pressure or a tourniquet. The breathing passages should be kept clear, and the person moved as little as possible. He should also be kept warm, and sedatives should be given to relieve any pain.

Transfusions Life-Saving

Any loss of blood should be restored as soon as possible. Blood transfusions into the veins have helped save many lives. Transfusions at high pressure are now also being given into the arteries, and have saved lives that might otherwise have been lost.

Another important development has been the use of blood plasma and certain other solutions as blood substitutes when blood is not available.

The doctor will decide in each case what treatment is necessary and, of course, the physician's services are required without delay in all cases of shock.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. E. M.: My lips get sore at the corner of my mouth. What is the cause? Could the use of nail polish have anything to do with it?

Answer: It is not likely that nail polish is the cause of your condition. Soreness of the corners of the mouth is usually due to a vitamin B deficiency, most often riboflavin or vitamin B-2. It would be advisable for you to consult your physician to determine the proper vitamins you should take.

A LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—A six-pound baby has a better chance on the operation table than his 40-year-old father.

Scientists Study Gulf's Red Tide

FT. MYERS, Fla., Nov. 14.—Scientists are setting out to determine if the acres of dead fish seen floating in the gulf of Mexico the last few days are caused by the dread red tide.

Reports of dead fish are similar to those in 1947 when the red tide killed tons of fish along the Florida west coast. The red tide is a tiny marine organism known as dinoflagellate. Some scientists say these organisms kill fish by entering the gills and strangling them; others say they do it with poison.

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

New President and Supreme Court

By Roy Tucker

WASHINGTON, November 14—Dwight D. Eisenhower will inherit such a youthful and healthy Supreme Court that he will not be able to appoint a majority of the nine members of the highest judicial tribunal, even if he serves eight years in the White House.

It is this body, in the belief of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, which would preserve New Deal-Fair Deal reforms, social and economic, even under the impact of a Republican President and Congress.

This reliance on judicial backstopping for a long period was responsible for FDR's court-packing attempt, and for Truman's selection of Senate and political cronies when vacancies occurred.

COURT SETUP—Justice Felix Frankfurter will be 70 years old tomorrow, which is the age when members may retire at full salary, if they have also had ten years on the federal bench. Although eligible to quit on both counts, and sponsor of so many "hot dogs" in key government posts tells friends that he is "too frisky" even to think of retirement.

Justices Reed and Black are 68 and 67 respectively, and Eisenhower conceivably might be called upon to replace them. They have shown no sign of stepping down, however, although Reed's resignation is a possibility. Chief Justice Vinson is only 63, and he has at least seven more years to wear a black robe, barring death.

The remaining five are comparative youngsters—Jackson, Burton, Minton, Douglas and Clark. All except Jackson and Douglas are Truman appointees, as is Vinson.

Thus the first Republican Chief Executive in 20 years will be confronted by an unapproachable court built by two of the most partisan and headstrong Presidents in our history.

The ruling in the steel seizure controversy illustrates dramatically how presidential schemes to pack the Supreme Court come to naught. In this 6-3, anti-Truman verdict, such conservative justices as Vinson and Reed approved this use of so-called "inherent powers of the President," to the amazement of court attaches and the federal bar.

IKK'S POSITION—On the other hand, such an erstwhile liberal as Justice Black wrote the majority decision. And he was joined by such judicial firebrands as Justices Douglas and Clark, and the chagrin of the Trumanites around the White House and the Department of Justice.

Moreover, with an attorney general and U. S. district attorneys of his own selection, Eisenhower will be in a position to prevent the filing of questionable actions, such as the current Anti-Trust proceedings against U. S. oil firms abroad, and to bar appeals made for ideological rather than legal purposes.

AGENCIES CONTROL—Despite the vast power vested in the various alphabetical agencies by Roosevelt-Truman legislation, which transforms them into minor courts in many important economic fields, Eisenhower should have no difficulty here in promoting that widely publicized "change at Washington."

Most of these bodies have members whose terms expire in one or two years, and the President's appointments will give his group a majority. Moreover, such commissions as the Securities and Exchange, the Federal Communications, the Federal Power, Interstate Commerce and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation are doing, in general, a workmanlike and businesslike job.

There is one troublesome agency which needs a thorough housecleaning—namely, the Federal Trade Commission, which Truman used for partisan gain in the recent election. But that is a story for another day.

Scientists Study Gulf's Red Tide

FT. MYERS, Fla., Nov. 14.—Scientists are setting out to determine if the acres of dead fish seen floating in the gulf of Mexico the last few days are caused by the dread red tide.

Reports of dead fish are similar to those in 1947 when the red tide killed tons of fish along the Florida west coast. The red tide is a tiny marine organism known as dinoflagellate. Some scientists say these organisms kill fish by entering the gills and strangling them; others say they do it with poison.

Greer-Srofe Wedding Vows Read Nov. 6

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Greer of this city announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara to Mr. John Srofe, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Srofe also of this city.

The wedding was an event of Thursday, November 6 and was solemnized in the First Christian Church Parsonage with Rev. Don McMillin officiating at 8 P. M.

Attendants for the couple were Miss Wilma Coldiron and Mr. Edward Davis and guests were parents of the bride and groom and Miss Elizabeth Pavey niece of the bridegroom.

The bride wore for her marriage an ice blue taffeta street length dress with grey accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Miss Coldiron was wearing a grey taffeta dress with black accessories and her corsage was identical to the bride's.

The new Mrs. Srofe is employed in the office of the Braddock Motor Freight Incorporated here and Mr. Srofe is employed in the engineering department at the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Chillicothe.

The couple has established their home at 629 1/2 East Paint Street.

Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Kelley

Seventeen members of the Buckeye Garden Club assembled at the home of Mrs. Emmett Kelley in Bloomingsburg Thursday afternoon for the regular meeting with the president, Mrs. Frank Slager, presiding.

The home throughout was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums from the hostess' own garden and potted plants also added to the setting.

The theme song "In the Garden" sung by the group was followed with the regular reports and roll call was responded to with a Thanksgiving table decoration.

Plans were completed for the Christmas Party at the Dayton Power and Light Company, December 5 and the club accepted an invitation to attend a tea given by the Mt. Sterling Garden Club Friday, November 21.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs. Thomas Parrett and Mrs. Edgar McIntosh program leader on "The First Thanksgiving" which was given in the form of an original story.

The meeting closed with the reading of the poem for the month by the group and during the social hour Mrs. Kelly was assisted by Miss Katherine Gossard in the serving of a dessert course.

Guests included were Mrs. Willard Bloomer, Jean Ann and Eddie Taylor.

Jeffersonville Progress Club Holds Meeting

Mrs. Warner Straley was hostess to the Jeffersonville Progress Club at the lovely home of Mrs. Forrest Moon in Jeffersonville, for their regular meeting.

Twenty members answered roll call with "patriotic" responses.

Mrs. G. Max Morrow, the president, presided over the business meeting.

Miss Helen Fults in her usual pleasing manner very capably presented the first paper of the evening, a book review entitled "Grandma Moses: My Life's History," edited by Otto Kallir.

At the suggestion of friends and admirers, Grandma Moses, as she is known to the world, and one of the most famous and best loved women, began to write the story of her life.

Within the short space of ten years, Grandma Moses has established herself firmly in the hearts of millions of American people. She is so typically American that thinking of and painting only the American scene is to her the most natural thing in the world and she never had an art lesson in her life.

On September 7, she was 92 years of age and her pictures have crossed the ocean and have been received in Germany, Switzerland, Holland, France and Austria with great enthusiasm. Grandma Moses is painting the lasting things, not only what she remembers of yesterday, but also what she feels and sees today, and so she is painting for many tomorrows.

Perhaps one of the best tests of really good art is how many people respond to it with happiness and unquestionably this what she brings to thousands of those who look at her paintings.

The second paper of the evening was most interestingly presented by Mrs. Ralph McFarland on "A Garden of Songbirds."

Bird lover Alfred E. Runk of Ramsey, New Jersey, believes that the hobby of bird watching is one of the most fascinating pastimes. It is a hobby anyone can enjoy at any age for any period of time.

Mr. Runk as a landscape consultant, a lecturer and an ornithological authority, claims that any owner of even a small sized lot who plants shrubs, trees and bush life, offers food and protection to birds.

Like most bird watchers, Runk is a meticulous diarist. He frequently compares arrivals, departures, diet items and plant conditions.

He further proves that it isn't necessary to be a scientist or an athlete to enjoy the birds.

A very pleasant social hour was enjoyed following the program and the hostess served a delicious dessert course.

The club adjourned to meet with Miss Maude Routson on Nov. 25.

Elmwood Ladies Aid Meets At Moats Home

The November meeting of the Elmwood Ladies Aid was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold Moats, with twenty-three members present.

The opening devotions were led by Mrs. Billie Wilson, who read the 95th Psalm, led in the repeating of the 100th Psalm and read two articles entitled "Thanksgiving" and "Measure of Life," closing with prayer.

Mrs. Jess Taylor conducted the business session and following a hymn the usual reports were heard and monthly reports were 126 calls made.

Election of officers was held and Mrs. Roy Lunbeck was chosen as president; Mrs. Carson Maddox, vice president; Mrs. James Carr, secretary; Mrs. Robert Blake, assistant secretary; Mrs. Wert Bush, treasurer and Mrs. Billie Wilson, assistant treasurer.

Plans were made to send cheer baskets to shut-ins at Thanksgiving and Mrs. Wert Bush, Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mrs. James Carr were appointed as the committee in charge.

Plans were also made for the Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Sam Coil, Sr., which will feature a turkey dinner and gift exchange.

The meeting closed with the benediction and during the social hour Mrs. Moats was assisted by Mrs. Charles Runnells, Mrs. Billie Wilson, Mrs. John Rhoads and Mrs. Margaret Foutch in the serving of a refreshment course, and in a contest Mrs. Heber Roe was awarded the prize.

Sugar Grove WCTU Meets

The Sugar Grove WCTU members met at the home of Mrs. Orville Bush for an all day institute which featured a covered dish luncheon.

The afternoon meeting was presided over by Mrs. Earl Scott, who also led in the morning devotions, reading Scripture from Matthew and closing with the Lord's Prayer.

The short business session in the afternoon consisted of the usual reports and plans for the Thanksgiving treats for shut-ins, the announcement that 500 blotters had been placed in the public schools.

Mrs. Frank E. Haines, a guest, led in the devotions and Mrs. Minnie Sturgeon gave a report on the Sugar Grove Union from the time of its organization in 1901 with twelve charter members, with only two living today, who are Mrs. Sturgeon and Miss Minnie Breakfield. Mrs. Alice Taggart of Jeffersonville, was the first county president.

The program, in charge of Miss Minnie Breakfield, consisted of the following readings, "Social Drinkers Is Dangerous," by Miss Blanche Roberts; "A Governor Speaks" by Mrs. Earl Scott; "Drunkness Among Women," by Mrs. Beryl Cavinee; "The Battle For Temperance," by Mrs. Frank Haines and

Gleaners Class Holds Meeting

Members of the Gleaners Class of McNair Church held their regular meeting at the Country Club Drive Inn Thursday evening.

Following the serving of a dessert course, the business session was opened by the president, Mrs. Florence Peters, who led in the devotions, reading the 116th Psalm, with Mrs. Frank Thompson offering prayer and leading in the repeating of the 23rd Psalm.

The usual reports were given and nineteen members responded to roll call.

Election of officers was held and Mrs. Peters was re-elected as president; Mrs. Frank Thompson, first vice president; Mrs. Roy Hays, second vice president; Mrs. Hazel Hidy, secretary and Mrs. Todd Ward, treasurer.

The meeting adjourned with the Lord's Prayer and visiting was enjoyed.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Willis McCoy and Mrs. Jack Speakman.

City Manager To Be Speaker At LWV Meeting

City Manager J. F. Parkinson will be the speaker at the meeting of the League of Women Voters of Fayette County on Monday, November 17, at the home of Miss Dorothea Gaut at 2 P. M. Mr. Parkinson has not announced the subject on which he will speak in view of the financial crisis which faces this city, and the problem of additional revenue for operating costs, this meeting may prove to be a wide open forum.

The League of Women Voters is running an active and growing business. Its membership represents, as far as possible, a cross section of the community, and it promotes a maximum participation of all its members. The activity of the league is not limited to its own members. It reaches out into the community to develop responsibility.

All citizens are anxious to balance the budget. Visitors are invited to this meeting and are requested to talk over the problems with the City Manager. The privilege of citizenship carries responsibilities with it.

Church Society Holds Meeting

Mrs. Walter McLean was hostess on Thursday to the ladies of the Missionary Circle of First Baptist Church.

The meeting was opened by the president Mrs. Eugene Thompson, who led in the praying of the Lord's Prayer and the business session following consisted of the regular reports and Mrs. Kenneth Chaney gave the report of the White Cross quota for the year.

The club planned to send a box of used clothing to Mather School, in South Carolina and it was decided to send a Christmas box to Baptist missionary Training School for Girls in Chicago.

Monthly reports were fifty-five calls made and Mrs. Lucy DeWeese read an article "Moslems in America," to conclude the business session.

The devotions and program in charge of Mrs. Earl Hopkins included the hymn "Lord of All Beings," with Mrs. F. T. McCarty at the piano, Scripture reading from Psalms by Mrs. Hopkins, prayer by Mrs. L. B. Rogers, a poem "Did I" by Mrs. Hopkins.

A playlet "Star Touched" given by Mrs. Thomas Cullen, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Milo Smith, Mrs. John Case, Mrs. Paul Thompson and Mrs. Kenneth Chaney, was followed with the reading of the hymn, "In Christ There is no East or West," by Mrs. Cullen, who led in prayer.

During the social hour, Mrs. McLean was assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Chaney, Mrs. L. B. Rogers and Miss Lora Fortune in the serving of refreshments.

"Where They Learn To Drink" by Miss Breakfield, who gave statistics on money spent for intoxicating liquors in the United States which is astounding as compared to money spent for schools and other public institutions.

Blue Birds Elect Officers

The Sunny Blue Birds met at Sunnyside School with Mrs. Betty Armbrust and Mrs. Robert Edgington, leaders, supervising the meeting and eighteen members present.

Election of officers was held and Lana Huffman was chosen as president; Paula Bowers, vice president; Pamela Edgington, secretary; Judy Edgington, treasurer, and Nancy Sue Graves, scribe.

Plans were made to hold meetings on Tuesday afternoons at 3:30 P. M. at the Sunnyside School.

Mrs. Pensyl Is Hostess To Class Members

Mrs. Marge Pensyl was hostess to the Open Circle Class of Grace Methodist Church with a good attendance of members present Thursday evening.

Miss Lulu Binegar, president, opened the meeting and Mrs. Pensyl, devotional leader, read the 100th Psalm and a beautiful poem.

The usual reports were given, and a nominating committee made up of Mrs. Earl Henderson, Mrs. Forest Bottenfield and Mrs. Virgil Duff were appointed to choose officers for the coming year.

Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Russell Schnell, and Mrs. Robert R. Meriweather was appointed to select gifts for shut-ins.

Following a discussion on other projects the meeting was adjourned and during the social hour Mrs. Pensyl was assisted by Mrs. William Theobald, Mrs. Jess Todd, Mrs. Howard Fogle and Miss Ellen Montgomery in the serving of a tempting dessert course.

Mrs. A. Clark Gossard and Miss Nancy McGuff were included as guests.

Camp Fire Girls Adopt Project At Meeting

The Tawanka Campfire Girls group met at the home of Ann McDonald.

Judy Partch, president, opened the meeting and led in the singing of the Camp Fire Laws, and a short Thanksgiving program was given by Judy Partch, Mary Ellen Brooks and Janice Chaney.

All members gave reasons they had to be thankful for, and it was decided to bake and sell cookies as a money making project.

Homemade gifts will also be made for mothers of the girls for Christmas as an added project.

The meeting was supervised by Mrs. Samuel Wilson and Mrs. Caryll Williams, leaders and the young hostess assisted by Jane Pond served light refreshments.

Club Members Are Entertained By Mrs. Stephens

Mrs. Ronald Stephens was hostess to the members of the Washington Homemakers Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Elza Woodruff, leader, conducted the business session and the secretary-treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Richard Parks in the absence of Mrs. Kenneth Watson.

Roll call was responded to by naming a traditional article of food at Thanksgiving.

The Christmas party of December 18 will be held at the home of Mrs. Woodruff, and it was announced that the club will arrange for a table on "Which Weigh Lady" for the Christmas at Home Party, December 4 and 5 and members will furnish cookies also.

It was announced that November 25 would be the last date to finish chair caning at the Farm Bureau auditorium and Mrs. T. N. Willis and Mrs. Woodruff were in charge of the demonstration "Which Weigh Lady" a nutrition subject, in which many useful points were brought out in menus illustrated in colored pictures.

Displays of huck weaving and toy horses made by the members were brought to the meeting along with hand painted plates, aprons and pillow slips.

Light refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. George Woods of Troy was included as a guest.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. N. Willis.

Two Share Honors At Birthday Party

Mrs. Leona Dadds and Mrs. Ruth Ross honored Miss Joyce Ross and Miss Mary Ella Dadds on their sixteenth birthday at a party given at the home of Mrs. Dadds.

Garden flowers and balloons were used in the decorations and dancing and games were provided as entertainment for the guests.

The dining room table centered with pink carnations and white mums had a decorated birthday cake at either end for the honor guests.

Later refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to twenty-five guests who were from New Martinsburg, Good Hope, Jeffersonville and Washington C. H.

Spaso House Feared by Russians More Than They Fear Red Kremlin

By ROBERT J. GUERINK
(Central Press Association)
There's one house in Moscow few Russians dare walk by without averting their eyes and speeding up their steps. It's Spaso House, where the American ambassador lives while in the Soviet capital.

The Russian police always have had their eyes on this mansion—and their ears inside it. American diplomats have been warned in whispers that there are only two places where they can talk without being overheard: out in the open yard, or in a room where a few raps on wood with a lead pencil might (with good luck!) break the electrical circuit of hidden microphones.

Some alert Yankee embassy secretaries once found a mike in an elevator shaft just a layer of plaster away from the ambassador's desk, and rigged up a trap to nab the culprit. They strung a lot of almost invisible threads around the mechanism and hooked them up to an alarm. However, the Red police saw through it; one morning the mike and threads were gone, for the unknown spy had simply switched off the house current making the alarm useless.

IN 19 YEARS, the police have left the place alone just once. That was when the Nazis were moving on Moscow and the city was being abandoned. Looters were in the streets, and for once in their lives the American inhabitants of Spaso House desperately wanted police protection! They finally dug up a guard splotch and promised him plenty of good United States food if he'd stand at the gate and watch.

Brushes between Americans and Russians at Spaso House haven't always been grim. When our first ambassador, William Bullitt, brought his furniture into the building he was careful to include a stout heavy safe with the office equipment.

Some Russian laborers tugged the thing right into the doorway, looked at the dim Moscow sky, and told n' attache: "Time to quit!" It mattered little that the ambassador was having guests that evening—nobody could make workers in the Socialist Paradise do any tugging overtime!

On another occasion, a Russian cop marched up to the door with a nasty gash over his eye and a busted soda bottle in his hand. That bottle had come from a window in the ambassador's bedroom—what was the big idea?

American diplomats scurried all over the house to find out what had happened, and finally ran into a chauffeur who calmly explained it all. The bottle had slashed a darn good tire, and it made him so mad he'd tossed the bottle over a wall. If it hit a cop—well, we all take our chances.

YET IT COULD be said that an American ambassador saved some of the top Red Army generals from being snuffed out in a minute. The pride of Spaso House was its huge chandelier—a monstrous thing plated a 16th of an inch with gold, and having many foot-long crystals weighing 25 pounds apiece.

United States Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith had been after the Russians to remodel the house itself (many rooms were heated with oil stoves), but when the Reds refused, he took the job himself. He found that the chandelier was just about ready to crash down; its rusty wires might snap the next time a Red Army marshal stomped a heavy boot on the floor below. Smith avoided an earth-shaking international crisis by making sure the chandelier was fastened securely to the ceiling the next time any Russians came in.

However, as the years have passed, fewer and fewer Russians have been seen around Spaso House, for now it's supposed to be a cesspool of American "capitalist contamination."

Russians are afraid to talk to Americans the way one big-shot Red officer did when he asked the American ambassador's daughter,

"Wouldn't you like to be free as the Russian women are free?" Her answer was a flat no, and she gave him plenty of reasons why. We'll never know if the officer was impressed—he was shot soon afterward.

Russian diplomat Andrei Gromyko once tried to pass off Spaso House as a flophouse by appearing there at a Fourth of July party in a battered brown suit, insulting his American hosts further with the unshaved stubble on his face.

A compliment of sorts was paid to the Americans when a desperate satellite Czech ambassador confided to an embassy official that he'd dropped in to pick up a good American cigar—could he be fixed up with a couple?

IT WAS no joke when the Russians slammed the door of the old mansion on George Kennan, our present ambassador to the Soviet Union, saying he was an "eccentric liar" and barring him from ever entering Russia again.

Spaso House, however, is no place for jokes. At an international conference in Moscow during World War II, a party was held there when Ernest Bevin, British foreign minister, sent Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov in to a gale of laughter with an "irreverent" joke about Lenin. Despite his boss' guffaws, the young Communist interpreter who had passed on the joke turned severely on Bevin and brought the atmosphere of Spaso House back to normal.

"In the Soviet Union," he said grimly, "we do not joke about Lenin!"

Parkinson Holds Meeting With Police Force

Various Problems Are Discussed To Better Service

City Manager James F. Parkinson and Police Chief Vaiden Long held a meeting with all members of the police force, Wednesday afternoon to discuss various phases of police duty.

Parkinson spoke at some length on various topics regarding police service. He stressed the importance of:

Neat appearance of police officers.

Courteous conduct at all times. Alertness as helpers as well as regulatory duties.

Development of the service to the public rather than the corrective aspect.

THE NEW CITY manager urged the police to give more attention to all phases of traffic law enforcement.

Parkinson stated that the number one problem of the police is the traffic problem and he urged constant alertness on speed in running red lights, double parking, turning around in main thoroughfares between streets and running stop signs.

He stressed the importance of officers using good, common sense in dealing with all problems.

"Don't forget that you are dealing with taxpayers and with our own citizens most of the time, and that they are entitled to every attention within your province to give," Parkinson told the officers.

After urging all members to avoid anything in their personal conduct that would cause adverse criticism, Parkinson said in conclusion that what is wanted is good law enforcement but never to the point of prosecution."

4-H Club Movement Founder Honor Guest at Banquet Here

A. B. GRAHAM (second from right), the founder of the 4-H club movement that has spread across the country in 50 years, chats with four junior club leaders following the annual 4-H Club advisors banquet at the Country Club Thursday night. The young people are (left to right) Kemp Allemang, John Melvin, Sue Christopher and Roberta Theobald. (Record-Herald Photo)

The 4-H Club advisors of Washington C. H. and Fayette County held their annual banquet Thursday night at the Country Club in keeping with the true 4-H spirit by having as their guest speaker, A. B. Graham, founder of the 4-H Club work in Ohio.

Graham founded the first 4-H Club in Ohio in 1902 in Springfield. There was close to 85 members in the new organization which was for the interest of boys and girls to help them become better citizens and train to be the future leaders of the country.

Now 4-H Clubs are spread all over the nation with thousands of boys and girls taking part in their activities. Many advisors give their time to help train the youth.

The only award the advisors receive is not in the terms of money, but the satisfaction of helping the boy or girl become the future leader and making friends with them.

The 4-H work in Fayette County was first started in 1916 and was called the Boy and Girl Youth Organization.

ALTHOUGH GRAHAM is now retired, he is still devoting his time to strengthening the 4-H motto by helping club leaders to make the best better. Graham's youth work was first started for the rural boys and girls but now urban areas are requesting a similar program and Graham told the advisors that there is no reason that it shouldn't spread into the cities.

The Extension Service and the 4-H Council had charge of the banquet along with the cooperation of the many advisors.

New officers were elected at the banquet to head the 4-H Council for 1953. Mrs. R. C. Belt is the new president, Jeannie Coil, vice president; Joe Fisher, secretary and Malcolm Bloomer, treasurer.

The past officers were Mrs. Lawrence Hoppes, president; Mrs. Ralph Barger, vice president; Joseph Fisher, secretary and Charles Gibeau, treasurer.

Mrs. Hoppes, speaking for the other officers, told the 72 advisors and guests at the banquet that she hoped they would give the new staff of officers the same cooperation that they had had and that it was the advisors that really deserve the credit for volunteering their time to lead the 4-H Clubs.

Miss Roberta Theobald was the toastmistress for the program which followed the banquet.

CERTIFICATES were presented by Roberta to six advisors for 4-H achievements.

Receiving the awards were Mrs. O. E. Bush, Silver Thimble Club; Mrs. Lawrence Hoppes, Wayne Wonder Workers; Mrs. Hoyt Bock, Merry Menders; Mrs. Harry Walls, Jeff Jolly Homemakers; Mrs. John Sheeley, Buzz'n Duzz'n and Mrs. Gerald Stephenson, Scissors Sisters. Group singing was led by Kemp Allemang, junior leader, accompanied by JoAnn Bock at the piano.

Two musical selections were played on the marimba by Mrs. Rolla Beach, Jr. She played "Barcarolle" and "The World Is Waiting For The Sunrise."

Guests for the meeting were John Mount, assistant state 4-H leader, and W. H. Palmer, the former 4-H state leader. Also guests were some members of the Fayette County Fair Board and their wives. Present from the Fair Board were Ray Brandenburg, president; Walter Sollars, vice president; Frank Ellis, secretary; Harry Silcott, treasurer; John Sagar, Ralph Nisley and Robert Cannon.

Guests from the Extension Service were Albert G. Cobb, associate county agent, and Mrs. Cobb; W. W. Montgomery, county agent, and Mrs. Montgomery; Mrs. Olive Woodyard, home demonstration agent, and Mr. Woodyard, and Mr. Harlan Baird. Issac Schart was a guest from the Dayton Power and Light Company.

John Melvin, junior leader, thanked the advisors for the privilege of training 4-H members in the different phases of the organization, such as agriculture and homemaking and to become good citizens.

GRAHAM TOLD THE advisors that they must keep an interest in boys and girls if they want them to respect them and become friends.

"You should keep your sense of humor, joke with the members and be able to go along with them in something they do is an important asset," Graham said.

Although Graham is 85 years old, he had the energy and spirit of a young 4-H member. He spoke for nearly 20 minutes without showing any weariness.

He said this was important to be able to act young with the members to gain their confidence.

"You, as advisors," he said, "were not paid in terms of money but with the satisfaction of training

Bonnie Prince Charlie Hailed On Birthday

LONDON, Nov. 14.—All Britain said happy birthday Friday to a small citizen with a long name—His Royal Highness the Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Baron Renfrew, Lord of the Isles and Prince and Great Steward of Scotland.

In other words — chubby-faced Prince Charles, heir to the throne of his mother Queen Elizabeth II, was 4 years old Friday.

Special flags were flown atop Buckingham Palace and government buildings, and booming guns saluted him from the Tower of London. The national anthem was the youth to be the leaders of tomorrow."

Washington C. H. Record-Herald

The Record-Herald Friday, Nov. 14, 1952 7 Washington C. H., Ohio played in his honor at the opening of the British Broadcasting Corp.'s first newscast.

And it's his first birthday together with both his parents.

On the first and second ones, papa, the Duke of Edinburgh, was still serving in the Navy.

Last year his mother, then Princess Elizabeth, and the duke were on their way home from a tour of Canada and a visit to the U. S.

This year the Queen and the duke kept the day free of all official engagements, just like other parents, so they could spend all their time with Charles.

Bonnie Prince Charlie will be allowed to keep presents from relatives and his own special circle of friends. Others will be acknowledged and then passed on to children of members of the palace staff.

It is estimated that cars of coal moving on U.S. railroads in any one winter day would form a train long enough to stretch from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

Driving Demonstration To Be Conducted Here With Special Type Car

SPECIALLY EQUIPPED automobile to be used for safety driving tests and demonstrations at high school here Monday afternoon.

Students of Washington C. H. High School will have an opportunity at 2 P. M. next Monday to see for themselves how the false impression and sense of security that a driver of a modern automobile gets, can and does, often lead into the danger zone and trouble, when they participate in a series of driving tests, E. Wayne Titus, principal, announced today.

The tests, which will be in two parts, will be given under the direction of Edward S. Adams, safety engineer, of the Farm Bureau insurance companies.

The first section will be a lecture and movie in the high school auditorium, while the second will be a demonstration on Temple Street, on the south side of the school. Adams will also demonstrate the correct and incorrect driving habits.

... HIGH POINT of the demonstration will come, however, when driving tests are made with various students and faculty members in the specially equipped car. Adams will use in the tests. Three revolvers which are mounted on the front bumper of the car will fire yellow paint bullets to indicate the distance required to stop the car in an emergency.

The driver being tested will be signalled to stop by a red light mounted above the radiator. The first paint bullet will be fired automatically at the same instant the stop signal is flashed. The second will be fired automatically when the brake is applied and the third when the car halts. Distance between the spots of paint will then be measured to determine the reaction and braking distances.

Tests will be limited to 20, 30 and 40 mile per hour speeds because of the danger in making emergency stops at higher speeds. Police officers will be used as drivers in the high speed tests.

As part of a program for safety on the highway, the driving demonstration and test have been conducted before the student bodies of more than 3,000 high schools and colleges in 12 states. The program is being brought to Washington C. H. under the sponsorship of the high school's student driver training class and Student Council.

The lecture as well as the demonstration are open to the public. Temple Street is to be blocked off from North to Forest Street for the demonstration.

Hillsboro Firebug 'Thrills' At Blaze

HILLSBORO, Nov. 14.—(AP)—William Hottinger Jr., 18, who said he "gets a thrill out of seeing things burn," has been bound over to the grand jury for setting fire to a woods.

The series of woods fires started Saturday and residents of nearby Elmsville worked until daylight Sunday to extinguish them. W. S. Peterson, of the state fire marshal's arson squad, said the youth admitted starting the fires.

New Sleep Pill Wakes You Up

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—(AP)—There's a new sleeping pill on the market that knocks you out, keeps you out for eight hours, and then wakes you up.

The pill with the built-in alarm clock feature has three layers of different drugs. The first layer is nembatal, which induces sleep; the second, butabarbital sodium, which maintains it, and the core is dexedrine, which rings the bell in your brain after eight hours.

Some of the earlier pictures of fairly large ships in Egypt date back to 3,000 B.C.

Historian Has Created Uproar Among French

Book Questions Saintliness Of National Heroine

There is an uproar in Paris, with religious implications, because a French historian, Jean Grimod, has written a book questioning the saintliness of the popular French heroine, Joan of Arc. This author asserts that a witch was burned at the stake in substitution for Joan, who escaped and married, according to news reports from Paris.

Moreover according to Grimod, far from being a child of poor parents, the Maid of Orleans was, in fact, an illegitimate child of the Duke of Orleans, brother of Charles VII and Isabeau of Bavaria. Thus he rings full changes of legend and fact.

Joan of Arc has been celebrated through the centuries in art, literature and nobility, is of a pattern with other tales of famous or infamous personages, who were rumored to have survived after their deaths.

This it was said that the Dauphin of France did not die in prison, but lived on through various misadventures. There were Americans who asserted that Lincoln's assassin, John Wilkes Booth, escaped death to potter about the South under the name of John St. Helen.

One of the daughters of Russia's last czar was supposed to have escaped the bolshevik executioners who wiped out the imperial family. There are those who think that Hitler still lives.

Grimod's tale about Joan of Arc thus falls into a design to titillate the credulous.

Grandma Bandit Has Struck Again

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Grandma has struck again.

She got $1,212 in a Wilshire Boulevard holdup Oct. 17, and Wednesday she held up the Union Bank and Trust Company on South Hill street, getting $2,000. The gray-haired woman of about 60 handed June North, 23-year-old teller, a note reading: "Act natural. There are three guns on you. Give me all your money and give me three minutes to get away."

It is believed that the first system of shorthand was invented about 63 B.C. to record speeches made in the Roman Senate.

She Teaches 'Em Too Thoroughly?

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Mabel White told her elementary school class to be quiet while she was out of the room Wednesday. The pupils obeyed perfectly.

Not one let out a peep when a strange man walked in and said to them: "You children must be awfully good for the teacher not to be here."

And there still wasn't a sound from the pupils when he opened the door of a corner cabinet, stole the teacher's purse containing $7 and departed.

"Empty" Gun Is Most Deadly

Firearms Fatalities Show Increase

With approach of the hunting season, hunters again are cautioned to exercise due care to prevent accidents.

Fatal firearms accidents are running 10 percent higher than they were in 1951. And mishaps in the home again outnumber those in the field.

November and December usually bring one-fourth of the year's fatal shootings so there is still time to improve this year's record.

Henri Marc, vice president for public safety, Ohio State Safety Council, warned that it is very seldom that a person is shot—indoors—by a "loaded" gun. Almost always the weapon was thought to be "unloaded"—at least until it discharged.

Every gun should be considered loaded until the ammunition has been removed. Sometimes a cartridge remains in the chamber, after the clip has been taken out. Be sure the gun is completely unloaded before taking it into your car or your home, before climbing a fence or handing the weapon to another person.

The Safety Council has been getting reports of ammunition "hang fire"—not going off promptly when hammer strikes. Cartridges deteriorate with age. Any that are more than a year old may give trouble.

If a shell does not fire when the hammer strikes it wait until the shell goes off.

Do not open the gun, nor look into the barrel. One "hang fire" is a clue that the batch of ammunition is unreliable. Take it to your Police Chief or Sheriff, who will dispose of it safely.

Ammunition should be locked, away from the gun, in a place where youngsters cannot get to it. Do not keep a loaded weapon in the drawer of desk or bureau.

Police records show that such guns shoot more householders than prowlers.

Odds On Perfect Whist Hand High

FAKENHAM, England, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The perfect whist hand—a complete suit to all four players—was dealt here Wednesday night by a baker, Edward Parker.

Slide rule experts calculated the odds against this were 2,235,197,406,895,366,368,301,560,000 to one.

Closing Scenes Of Grid Play Due Saturday

Biggest Games To Be
Irish vs Spartans,
Georgia Tech vs Bama

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 — (P)—The 1952 college football season, an extravagant production from the opening curtain, moves toward the closing scenes Saturday with the current bowl game contenders in supporting roles and two non-bowl teams taking over the center of the stage.

Conference crowns and roles in the Jan. 1 bowl extravaganzas will be awarded the winners of several key games, but all must give way to the Notre Dame-Michigan State clash in East Lansing, Mich., as the day's top attraction.

Notre Dame pulled the upset of the week last Saturday in toppling Oklahoma, and the big question now is: Can the Irish do it again against the nation's No. 1 team?

Knocking off the nation's best and ending a 22-game winning streak are not the only incentives for Notre Dame, however. State's hard-running stable of backs ran up a 35-0 score on the Irish last year, and that's the worst drubbing ever handed a Frank Leahy team.

For the second straight week, football fans who like to watch from their living room instead of a stadium seat will see a top-notch contest.

AFTER WATCHING Notre Dame and Oklahoma last week, the stadiums will see Sugar Bowl-bound Georgia Tech against Alabama, "Bama," the last team to defeat Georgia Tech, 22 games ago in 1950, has not been in a bowl game since 1948, but a victory over the nation's second-ranked team would give the team something to do next New Year's Day.

Two other games that have a direct bearing on the eventual bowl line-up are slated for the Southland, Maryland, No. 3 in the country, meets an undefeated but twice-tied Mississippi team anxious to become the school's first bowl representative since 1936.

Maryland, barred from the bowls by a Southern Conference edict, is a two-touchdown favorite.

Tennessee, No. 7 in the AP poll, takes on Florida, which has never been in a New Year's Day game. Tennessee is talked of as a favorite for the Cotton Bowl and Florida would be a natural for the Orange Bowl.

Out on the Pacific Coast, Southern California must get by Washington to keep its record perfect for the big clash next week with UCLA. If Southern Cal lives up to its fifth place ranking, the game with fourth-rated UCLA will determine the coast entry in the Rose Bowl, granddaddy of the bowl classics. UCLA has an open date.

THE OTHER entry likely will be determined in Ann Arbor, Mich., where Purdue, No. 10 in the poll, invades Michigan in the Big 10's climax game. Purdue is 3-0 in the conference and Michigan 3-1. Wisconsin, also 3-1, is heavily favored over Indiana.

The Cotton Bowl host, an automatic reservation for the Southwest Conference champion, will be Texas if the league leaders can get

New Yorker Loses License In USTA

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14—The U. S. Trotting Association has revoked the membership and driver's license of Clifford L. Burgett, 31, of Batavia, N. Y., a trainer and driver of harness horses.

The revocation has the effect of ending Burgett's career since, without USTA membership, he will no longer be eligible to compete at any of the nation's harness tracks. After Burgett had been arrested in Batavia last month on a charge of abducting a 14-year-old girl, investigation by New York State police brought out that he had a prior criminal record which he had concealed when applying for a driver's license from the association.

past old rival Texas Christian. From the viewpoint of the radio networks, there's only one football game, Notre Dame vs Michigan State Saturday afternoon.

Three of them are to concentrate their microphones on that battle as a fourth chain has its regular roundup and two TV hook-ups direct their attention elsewhere.

Coming on the radio: Notre Dame vs Michigan State: ABC 1:15 p. m., NBC and MBS 1:30 from East Lansing, Mich.

Television will provide: Keeler Air Force Base vs Bowling Field — CBS-TV 1:45 from Washington.

Alabama vs Georgia Tech—NBC TV 2:15 from Atlanta, Ga.

Good Luck Saturday But Be Sure You Shoot Only Birds, Rabbits

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14—(P)—Ohio's hunting season opens Saturday and a shotgun-armed horde of about half a million nimrods will invade the Buckeye brush and brae.

Rabbits and pheasants will provide the big targets, but Hungarian partridge and grouse also may be taken.

The rabbit is a fairly-small four-legged animal with a cotton-ball tail. The pheasant is a multi-colored bird, with two wings and a long tail. Neither resembles a man, which has two legs and is generally clothed in khaki-colored hunting garb.

Despite the difference in appearance, however, the chances are some of the hunters will be taken for rabbits or pheasants. Last year seven hunters were killed in Ohio, and 112 injured. The year before 16 died and 174 were hurt.

MANY OF THE accidents occur because of unfamiliarity with firearms on the part of the hunters, many of whom handle a gun only on the season's opening day. Extreme care must be taken in climbing fences, in the manner of carrying a firearm, and in the selection of targets, if the human toll is to be lowered. Then, too, there's the oldest axiom of the outdoors—"don't mix alcohol and gunpowder."

A year ago 3,243,500 rabbits were killed by Ohio's hunters, a 30 per cent drop over 1950. A similar decrease is expected this year, with the eastern and southern counties offering the better hunting grounds.

The pheasant population also is down for the year, but chances are last year's harvest of 903,150 birds will be matched. The 1950 pheasant kill was 930,000.

The dry fall allowed farmers to harvest their crops earlier this year, reducing the amount of cover for the birds and forcing many of them into the open, enhancing the hunters' chance for a shot at them. If you found pheasant a year ago, you'll find 'em in the same spots this season, Conservation Department experts believe, although the number may be down a bit.

State forests are closed to hunters, because of the forest fire hazard, which will hamper the grouse and raccoon hunters. However, if a drenching rain falls, the forests may be opened.

ON THE OTHER hand, if the dry spell continues, the entire hunting season may be halted should a series of fires break out. The Conservation Department cautions against dropping matches, cigarettes or cigars, and against the building of warming fires in the open.

The partridge season is Ohio's first in several years, and the birds—of low population density—are found mostly in Western Ohio.

Harrisburg Sale Tops $1 Million

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 14—(P)—The annual Standardbred horse show her entered its final day with sales already well above the $1 million mark.

Forty Hanover Shoe Farm trotting and pacing yearlings sold for $206,500 Thursday to help bring the four-day total up to $1,333,125. With only Saturday's session left the present sale already is the second biggest in history. Some 187 head changed hands Thursday for $421,500. The Hanover yearlings averaged $3,162.

Bucceroni and Danny Nardico, a couple of boys struggling to get into the big money bracket, met Friday night in a heavyweight 10-round in Madison Square Garden.

Bucceroni, winner of 38 of 41, is the 7½ to 5 favorite to end Nardico's nine-fight win streak. But if Nardico can upset Bucceroni, he may be in line for a date with Rex Layne. The bout, scheduled for 10 p. m. EST, will be carried by NBC radio and television.

They Can Say This Team Smells

LLANO, Tex., Nov. 14—(P)—The Llano high school football boys are sweet-smelling gent as football players go.

Every time a Llano player bounces off the turf of the high school field, he comes up smelling like a perfume salesman. For, instead of lime, the local club uses talcum powder donated by a hometown plant, to line off the yard markers and end zones.

22 Of Ohio's Colleges Near End Of Season

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14—(P)—Twenty-two of Ohio's 36 colleges wind up their football season this weekend, leaving only eight with games to play. Six finished their schedules last Saturday.

Ohio State's date with Illinois at Champaign heads Saturday's 19-game program, but plenty of action awaits stay-at-home fans.

Among the top contests are Ohio U. (4-2) vs Bowling Green (2-1) for the third spot in the Mid-American Conference at Bowling Green, and Ohio Northern (4-0) vs Ashland (0-4) at Ada, with the Polar Bears in position to clinch the Mid. Ohio League laurels by winning.

Heidelberg's Student Princes (4-1) get a chance to wrap up the Ohio Conference crown as they invade Akron (2-1-1) for a night game.

Miami, the state's only unbeaten club with seven straight, tangles with Dayton (5-3) at Oxford in another headliner.

Other games on the Saturday slate are: Muskingum at Otterbein, Wooster at Oberlin and Ohio Wesleyan at Wittenberg in the Ohio Conference; Cedarville at Defiance in the Mid-Ohio (night), and non-conference games sending Bradley to John Carroll (night), Toledo to Youngstown (night), Wilmington to Marietta (night), Anderson to Capital, Denison to Case Tech, Washington and Lee to Cincinnati, Kent State to New Hampshire, Butler to Western Reserve, Baldwin Wallace to Camp Lejeune, and Xavier to Boston.

Brownies Favored By 14 Points

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14 — (P)—Cleveland's Browns, favored by 14 points, expect fewer problems Sunday when they go after their second victory from Pittsburgh's Steelers.

Hobbled by injuries from the season's opening game, the Browns just did win the first one, 21-20, from the Steelers. Only a blocked kick saved the day. But this time the Steelers face all the aces of Coach Paul Brown's tricky offense.

Tangerine Bowl Opponents Named

ORLANDO, Fla., Nov. 14—(P)—The Tangerine Bowl on New Year's Day will present Tennessee Tech vs East Texas State.

Both were undefeated and untied through games of last weekend. Tech boasted eight straight victories; East Texas, seven.

Vic Sears, rugged 230-pound tackle for the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL, is playing his 12th season in pro football.

'Damn Yankee' Returns Home After Threats

TUPELO, Miss., Nov. 14.—(P)—Newell Anderson and his pretty wife were on their way back to their native North Dakota Thursday because, the 26-year-old newsman said, he had been warned to leave here because he is a "damn Yankee."

The couple started driving to Fargo, N. D., late Wednesday about one hour ahead of the ultimatum set by two hooded men after they roughed up Anderson on a wild automobile ride Monday night.

"We don't like foreigners coming in here and you'd better get out of town," the men told Anderson.

Anderson, who had been circulating manager of the Tupelo Journal for six weeks, said he had received anonymous telephone threats for two weeks.

Mayor George Maynard said that "the business of him (Anderson) being a 'damn Yankee' had nothing to do with his leaving. There is something more behind it."

Maynard and other civic leaders in this Northeast Mississippi town of 15,000 said they would get the true facts of the case "in order to remove the unjustified black eye against Tupelo and the South."

Anderson said he and his wife had been offered around-the-clock police protection for 30 days if they decided to stay.

"We got to thinking about what would happen after those 30 days and decided to leave," he added.

Mrs. Anderson, who is expecting their first child next April, said, "besides, I couldn't go up town to shop without a patrolman going along."

Bricker Asks About Security In 'H-Tests'

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14.—(P)—U. S. Sen. John Bricker (R-O) wants to know whether the mid-Pacific atomic tests, from which have brought unofficial reports of what some claim was the world's first H-bomb explosion, needed tight security rules.

Bricker, a member of the Senate House Atomic Committee, said: "I will want an explanation of whether the tight security secrecy was necessary—and, if so, whether these anonymous reported eyewitness accounts indicate that security was not properly enforced."

"All these published accounts may indicate that someone slipped a cog on enforcing security regulations."

Eyewitness accounts of the current tests at Eniwetok Atoll, mostly from sailors aboard task force ships, have been widely published in the nation's press recently.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Pentagon, meanwhile, have maintained a tight-lipped silence. The AEC Wednesday said it planned a report, probably soon.

An Army spokesman at Fort Shafter in Hawaii said he knew of no mail censorship at the test grounds. He said the commander of the tests, Maj. Gen. P. W. Clarkson, had censorship authority but may have put his men "on their honor."

Now It's Liquid Steak At The Soda Fountain

COLUMBUS, O.—(P)—That he-man meal, steak smothered with onions and mushrooms, can now be poured into a glass and sipped like a drug store fountain drink.

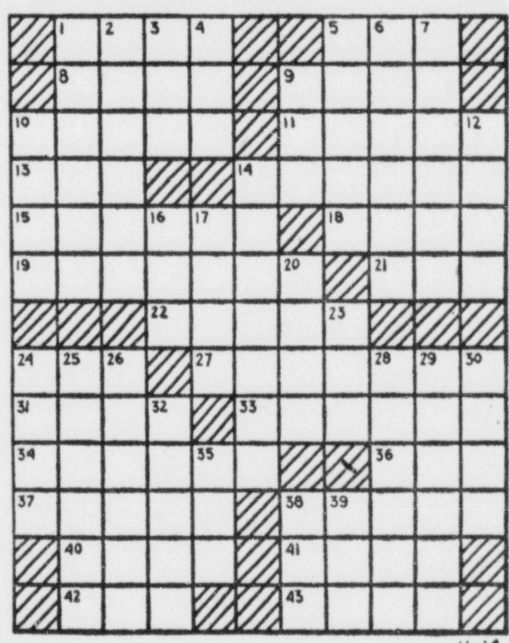

H. Ned Draudt, graduate student at Ohio State University and research chemist for Kingan and Co. of Indianapolis, Ind., is the man who turned the trick.

The liquid steak is made to order for persons with dietary problems or persons having difficulty chewing. It can be drunk either like a cocktail or spooned like soup.

It is an ideal solution to persons having waistline worries, Draudt said, for it is high in protein and low in calories. He said the steak would retail for 59 cents a can.

New Members Taken into FTA

Coach Jacoby Named Teacher Of The Year

The initiation of new members was held at the Thursday noon meeting of the Future Teachers of America Club of Washington C. H. High School when it met in the high school library. The initiation was conducted by the president, Roberta Theobald; Bea Van Zant, treasurer and Jo Davis, secretary.

New members taken in were Mickey Boylan, Max Sheppard, Linda Sheeley, Darlene Thornton, Connie Locke, Patti Shoop, Margaret Campbell, Carolyn Sue McNutt, Mary Louise Stewart, Pat Leeth, Sally Reiff, Shirley Cockerill, Shirley Johns, Mary Lou Craig, Marilyn Melvin, Carol Heath, Beverly Crosswhite, Barbara Hill, Mary Ann Welty, Jerilyn Coker, Jackie Lightle, Linda Frederick JoAnn Williamson and Nancy Mossbarger.

The president read a letter of appreciation for the help that the future teachers gave during the "open house" held at the high school this week.

THE HIGHLIGHT of the meeting was the presentation of a football to Fred Jacoby, head of the WHS football coaching staff, by Roberta after the FTA had voted him the "teacher of the year."

Coach Jacoby was also the speaker for the meeting. He was introduced by Mary Lu Biehn, program chairman for this week.

Jacoby gave an interesting talk on the explanation of the many different football plays.

No business was carried on at the meeting, the time being taken up to coincide with American Education Week, which is being observed throughout the nation this week.

Mrs. Jane Grillo is the advisor of the FTA.

Mrs. Roy Peck Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Edna Tootle Peck, 54, died at her home near Clarksburg at 2:30 P. M. Thursday after being in failing health for the past few years.

Mrs. Peck was born near Clarksburg and lived her entire life around that community.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Roy Peck.

She was a member of the Clarksburg Methodist Church, the WSCS and the WCTU.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Iva Voss of Bellefontaine, and two brothers, Floyd Tootle of Clarksburg and Ward W. Tootle of Lyndhurst, N. J. Several nieces and nephews are also surviving.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Sunday at the Clarksburg Methodist Church with Rev. Thomas W. Taylor in charge.

Burial will be in the Brown Chapel Cemetery near Clarksburg under the direction of the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home of New Holland.

Friends may call after 2 P. M. Saturday at the late residence.

Four Arrests Made Here On Thursday

Four persons were rounded up for various law violations here Thursday.

One man, John Michall O'Conner, 43, city was arrested for driving while intoxicated and bond of $350 was furnished.

Billy Thomas Wolfe, on a charge of disorderly conduct filed by Owen Lowe, parking meter caretaker, posted $50 bond for appearance in municipal court.

Andrew Burns, Cincinnati, for running through a red light at Fayette and Court Streets, left $15 bail.

One man was arrested for the 43rd time on a charge of intoxication.

"Senate" originally meant an assembly of old men and the word derives from the same root as "senile."

County Courts

WILL PROBATED

The will of Otis S. Morrow has been admitted to probate and Mabel M. Ott and Walter S. Morrow, executors named in the will, have accepted the appointment.

TRANSFER AUTHORIZED

The probate court has authorized transfer of real estate in the Robert R. Caplinger estate, as follows: to Mary W. Caplinger, widow, life estate; to Albert and Glenn Caplinger, sons, each one-half of the estate, subject to life estate of the widow.

TRANSFER ORDERED

Authority to transfer real estate in the Lona G. Hughey estate has been granted by the probate court, the first tract to Ethelyn M. James and tracts two, three, four and five to the Dr. R. M. and Lona G. Hughey trust.

ORDERS TRANSFER

The probate court has authorized transfer of real estate in the Ernest L. Smith estate, half to his widow, Irene G. Smith, and half to Dudley Orville Moon, son-in-law.

APPROVAL GIVEN

Approval has been given to an inventory and appraisement filed in the Willard DeWitt estate.

CLAIMS APPROVED

A schedule of claims in the Robert R. Caplinger estate has been approved by the probate court.

Driver Is Fined After Accident

William E. Potter, 55, of Clinton County drew a fine of $45 and costs in Mayor Malcolm L. Arthur's court at Wilmington for leaving the scene of an accident in which his car crashed into a car driven by Roy Reno of Washington C. H.

The accident occurred Friday at 5:30 P. M. near Wilmington.

State Highway Patrolmen who had been making a search for the offending car and driver finally located him Wednesday.

Potter pulled out of a sideroad at Sligo. No one was injured.

Judge Will Hold 'Open House' Here

Municipal Court Judge Robert L. Brubaker announced Friday that he will hold court throughout Saturday and Saturday night to handle hunting cases, if necessary.

Usually, the opening day of hunting brings a flock of hunting law violators into court, and this year all of these cases in Fayette County, outside of Jefferson Township, will be tried in municipal court here.

Hence the "open house" decision of Judge Brubaker.

Committal Services Held For Infant Girl

Committal services were held for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ola E. Davis of Milledgeville, in the Milledgeville Cemetery Friday morning under the direction of the Parrett Funeral Home.

She was born in Memorial Hospital at 2:40 P. M. Thursday and died about an hour later.

Attorneys From Fayette Expected At District Meet

Fayette County is expected to be represented by a number of attorneys from this city at a meeting of lawyers and judges of district six at Springfield next Wednesday, November 19.

With much discussion within the past year of needed changes regarding changes in the judicial system as well as in certain laws of Ohio, the feature of this gathering is to be an address by Attorney Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, on "Proposed revisions in the Ohio Judicial System."

All members of the legal profession from Champaign, Clark, Clinton, Fayette, Greene, Logan, Madison and Union Counties have been extended invitations to attend the sessions which begin on Wednesday afternoon and continue into the evening.

Registration will be open at 1:30 P. M. at the Shawnee Hotel in Springfield, the afternoon session will convene at 2 P. M. and the meeting will conclude with a social hour and evening banquet in the Shawnee Hotel. Mr. Gorman will be the principal speaker at the banquet. He will be introduced by Judge James F. Bell of London, who will serve as toastmaster at the banquet.

Attorney R. Crawford Morris of Cleveland, will speak on recent cases under the Guest Statute, which pertains to the liability of a motorist for injuries to passengers riding in his automobile. Attorney William H. Selva of Dayton, will address the meeting on some of the aspects of practice in the federal courts.

Church Teenagers To Meet Sunday

A big time is in order for the Youth for Christ teenagers group of the First Christian Church when it meets at the church Sunday at 6:30 P. M.

The speaker will be Vaughn Elliott, son of Professor George Mark Elliott of the Cincinnati Bible Seminary, who is a missionary recruit to the greater New York area. Vaughn Elliott is associated with Elmer Kile, who started the missionary work in New York, with the "Go Ye Chapel." He and Kile have also established churches in New York.

Elliott will be the speaker at the regular evening worship service which will follow.

Limb Hits Car On West Court St.

A car driven by George H. Dickman of Cincinnati, was struck by a falling limb cut from a tree at 352 West Court Street, Thursday at 2:45 P. M.

Dickman escaped injury but his car was damaged.

Police checked the accident and said Dickman stated that he saw a man standing in the street waving his arms just as the limb was falling into the street, but could not stop in time.

Floyd D. Stookey was in charge of the tree trimming, the reports stated.

Features at the Theaters

To open at the Fayette Theater Sunday and Monday is "Something for the Birds" starring Victor Mature, Patricia Neal and Edmund Gwenn.

The show is a comedy about life in official and social Washington, D. C.

"The Hour of 13" is slated for Tuesday and Wednesday with Peter Lawford, Dawn Addams, Roland Culver and Derek Bond in the leading roles.

The plot unfolds a suspense-packed story of a miniaur murderer of policemen, whose distorted mind works out a pattern so that 12 assassinations will complete the letter, "T" standing for terror the word with which he signs his advance warnings.

Gary Cooper has the spotlight in the show "Springfield Rifle" coming for Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Phyllis Thaxter and David Brian are co-starred.

The picture tells the efforts of a hardy westerner in keeping the rifles out of outlaw hands. To do this, he is forced to become one of them and as a result almost loses the love of his wife and the respect of his friends.

A DOUBLE FEATURE is booked to open at the State Theater for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The first is "Has Anybody Seen My Gal" a musical in Technicolor starring Piper Laurie, Rock Hudson, Charles Coburn and Gigi Perreau.

The other feature is "Blue Canadian Rockies" with Gene Autry and his horse Champion in the leading roles.

Driver Of Death Car Faces Charge

Darrell Satterfield, 16, of Sedalia, is facing a charge of unlawfully and unintentionally causing the death of James Lee Brown, 16, of Sedalia, who was fatally injured when a car driven by Satterfield left the road and crashed into a concrete abutment south of Yatesville, early Nov. 8.

The charge was filed in Juvenile Court by Sheriff Orland Hays, who investigated the wreck and learned that the car was traveling at excessive speed and that Satterfield was operating the motor vehicle without an operator's license.

Satterfield's hearing was scheduled for Friday afternoon.

The tragedy occurred as the three boys and two girls were returning from a basketball game at Bloomingburg.
